

Federal Expenditures to North Dakota: 2002

Federal dollars flowing into North Dakota, in the form of federal expenditures, totaled $6.4 billion in 2002, an 8.5 percent increase from $5.9 billion in 2001. Between 1999 and 2002, federal expenditures increased significantly throughout the state, 12 percent per year on average (Figure 1).

Much of this increase can be attributed to agricultural assistance payments, the largest share of federal monies in North Dakota. Nearly 29 percent of all federal expenditures entering North Dakota in 2002 were agricultural assistance payments, up from 26 percent in 2001 and 17.9 percent in 1999. These payments are included in the 'Other Direct Payments' category in Table 1. The second largest share of federal expenditures, 21.5 percent, was paid directly to individuals for federal retirement and disability payments in 2002, down slightly from 22.7 percent in 2001 and 26.9 percent in 1999.

Per capita federal expenditures in North Dakota totaled $10,151 in 2002, up 7.7 percent from 2001 after adjusting for inflation. North Dakota ranked 3rd in the nation in per capita federal expenditures in 2002. Throughout North Dakota, 2002 per capita federal expenditures ranged from a low of $5,091 in Mercer County to a high of $29,123 in Divide County. In addition, 16 North Dakota counties had federal expenditures of more than $15,000 per person in 2002 (Figure 2).

Data for 'grants' represent the federal obligation incurred at the time the grant was awarded. Therefore the amounts do not represent actual expenditures. Also, initial amounts may be adjusted through deobligations resulting in negative amounts. 'Procurement' refers to governmental purchases and contractual outlays. Examples of 'other direct payments' include medicare, agricultural assistance, insurance premiums for federal employee life and health insurance, housing assistance, food stamps and unemployment compensation. Military, postal employee, FBI, and other payroll expenditures are included in the 'salaries and wages' category.
